

Lasers targeting shorter wavelengths carry substantially higher risk on darker skin.

Some options are best left in the dark.