

Arriving with low blood sugar triggers rapid blood pressure drops during acute physical procedures.
Serving spontaneous banquets creates significant logistical headaches.