

Hoops rotate and drag debris into the healing channel, while flat-back labret studs minimise movement. Installing miniature amusement park rides on fresh wounds is ill-advised.