

Consuming substantial meals beforehand prevents sudden blood pressure drops and subsequent lightheadedness.
Achieving ethereal translucence is frowned upon during consultations.