

Proper wound recovery relies on gentle sterile saline rather than harsh chemicals like alcohol or tea tree oil.
Chemical warfare tactics are ineffective at promoting cellular regeneration.