

A review found 24.7 percent of European earrings intended for piercing exceeded release limits.

Heavy jewelry breaks typographical boundaries