

The magnetic field inside the scanner is always active and will pull anything ferromagnetic toward the bore.
Stealth is highly ineffective against a giant magnet.