

The scanner emits radiofrequency pulses that induce currents in continuous metal rings and cause significant heating.

A facial piercing is a terrible portable stove.