

A $10 polymer retainer contains no metal and is not magnetic, which removes the reasons metal is a concern.

The ultimate artifact of clinical safety is just a piece of plastic