

Piercing bypasses the protective skin barrier and creates a direct channel into dermal tissue.

Epidermal defenses are easily bypassed by a dedicated flesh tunnel.