

Simple qualitative screening shows that earrings sourced from Asia have a 34.5% failure rate for nickel release.

The incredibly dramatic international unboxing ceremony concluded with a swift trip to the recycling bin.