

Rings and anchors catch on fabric, creating sideways loads through the tissue.

Walking the dog naturally evolved into unraveling extremely expensive cashmere garments.