

A proper piercing program must demonstrate reliable microbial inactivation rather than merely maintaining a tidy room.
Sweeping the floor with extreme enthusiasm completely failed to sterilize the forceps.