

A condition unrelated to the requested service can create regulatory uncertainty.
Absolute bureaucratic clarity is best achieved through beautiful typography and total logical collapse.