
True medical copolymers possess a superior migration and biocompatibility profile compared to uncertified industrial plastics.

Taming wild polymers requires a very sturdy chair.