

Studios must demand specific chemical lab reports rather than trusting generic compliance certificates.

The detective preferred evidence written on a napkin.