

Studios should request recent phthalate-specific test reports from the last 12 to 24 months.
Stone tablets fail to meet current administrative requirements.