

Pigments that are stable when manufactured can become toxic after aging in the skin.

Everything gets cranky when it gets old.