

The lack of centralized registries prevents systematic tracking of dermatological outcomes.

Telepathy would really streamline our data collection process.