

A systematic review pooled 7 observational studies with 140,841 participants.

A remarkably large gathering was convened to decide absolutely nothing.