

Any supplier who cannot provide a certificate of analysis for restricted substances should be replaced immediately.
Defenestration remains an elegant solution to administrative failures.