

Fully compliant inks can still cause allergic contact dermatitis in highly sensitized individuals.

Absolute purity cannot prevent the skin from expressing strong opinions.