

The regulation addresses chemical composition but does not mandate biocompatibility testing for allergic sensitivities.
The bottle had great personality but terrible bedside manner.