

When a national authority reports a concentration finding the prudent immediate step is to suspend affected lots. Suspending the ink literally meant dangling the bottles from the ceiling until they learned their lesson.