

News cycles produce a seasonal spike in ink health scares simply because more tattooed skin is visible during warmer months.

The bravest warriors still fear the lifestyle section.