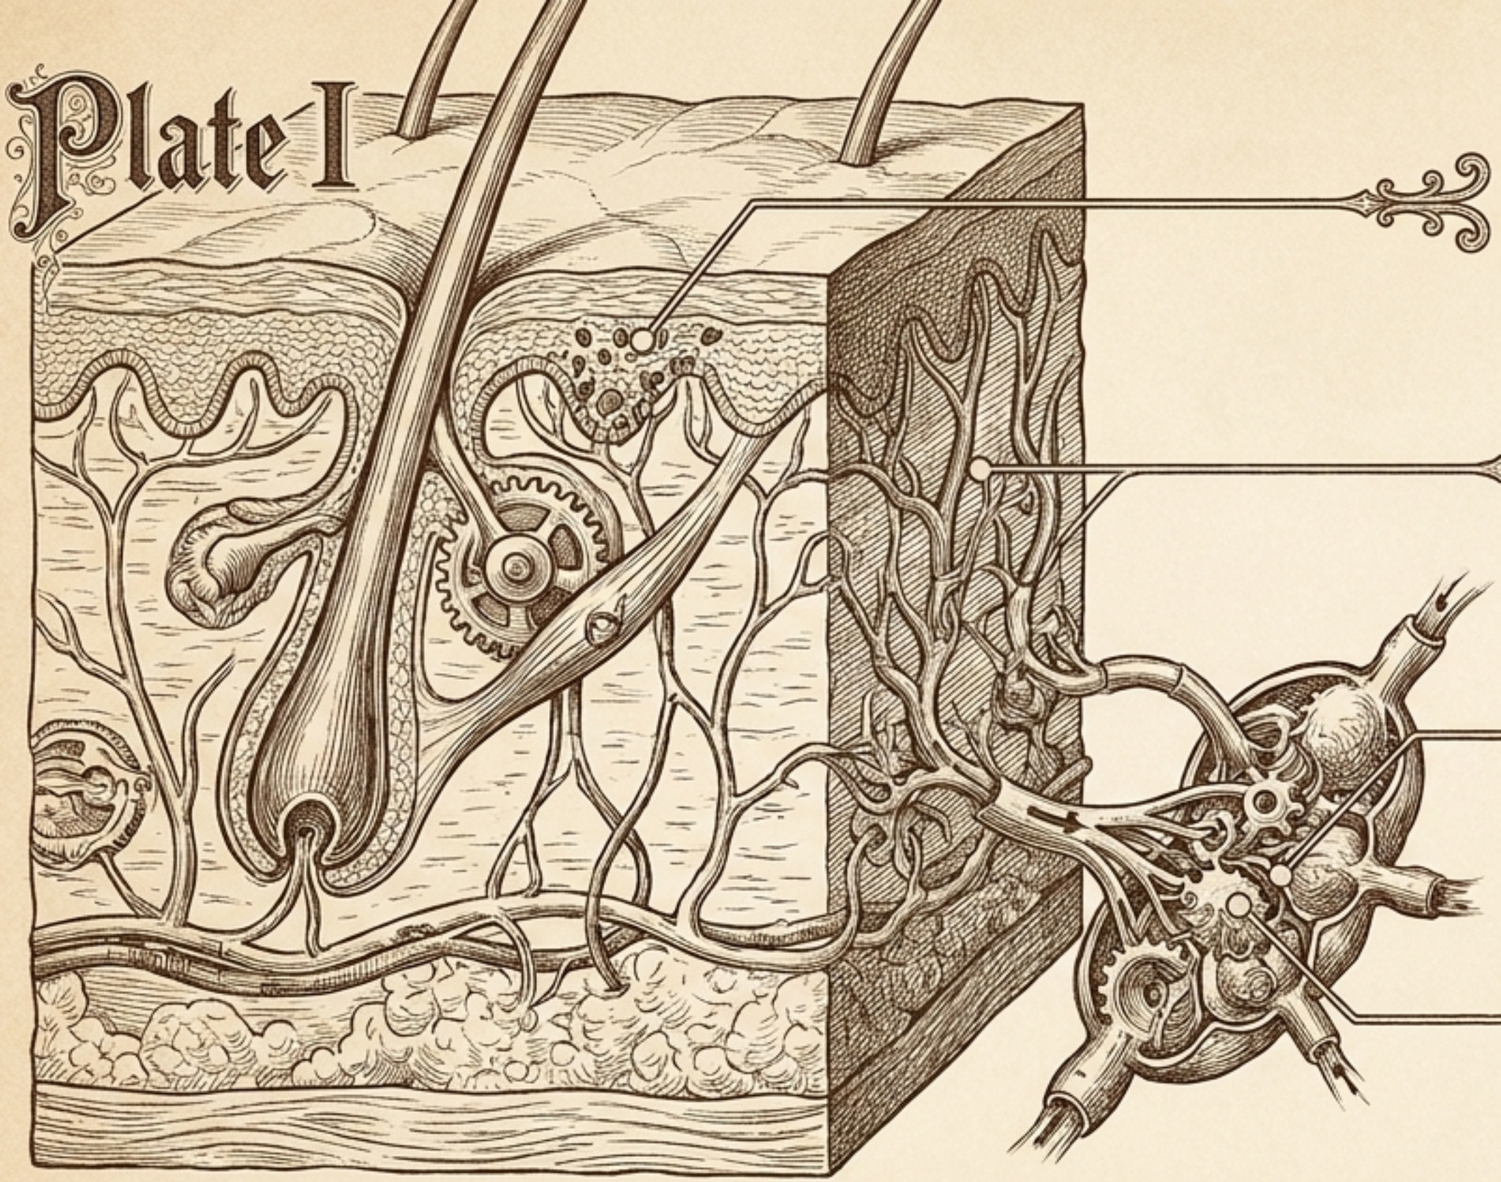

Plate I

Particulates enter the dermis during the procedure.

Lymphatic fluid carries small particles away.

Pigments deposit into the regional lymph nodes.

A 2017 study mapped this physical migration.

Pigment migration to lymph nodes is a well-documented physiological fact.

No Disease Causation Established