

Residue must be completely removed with a clean cloth before skin preparation to prevent driving the product into the dermis.

The industrial floor degreaser proved slightly excessive.