

The clinical consensus recommends a wide clearance margin around any mole when planning tattoo placement.
Oversized drafting compasses ensure the boundary is respected from orbit.