

Ritual objects and offerings create unusual contamination pathways in a ceremonial space.

The sterile field was eventually relocated to the ceiling.