

Proper infection control protects the skin from bacterial and viral complications.

His ultimate finishing move was basic surface disinfection.