

The restriction covers a massive catalog of hazardous substances, including specific irritants and metals.

Guarding the front door while the walls are missing.