

Evidence of compliance must address multiple restricted substance groups far beyond merely checking for heavy metals.

Locking the gate but forgetting the fence.