

A studio licensed for tattooing should not automatically be assumed competent to perform piercings.

Extreme enthusiasm rarely compensates for a total lack of geometric precision.