Jewelry standards matter because the human body does not care what a product catalogue calls premium.

Cursed market trinkets have a terrible track record for healthy tissue remodeling.