

Professional piercing setup is an engineering problem that depends on anatomy selection and insertion angle.
Celestial navigation tools remain entirely optional for locating an earlobe.