

Tattooing deposits pigment through repeated penetration.

Piercing creates one controlled tissue channel.

Technical controls are never identical.
Require separate competency and inspection criteria.

Tattooing and piercing share important infection control principles.
MANAGE THE DEMONSTRATED RISK