

Light changes the optical state of the material rather than removing foreign substances.

The warranty covers the bulbs but not the thumbs.