

Sunlight contains fluctuating intensity and radiation, making it an uncontrolled environment for photoresponsive ink.

The clouds are ruining the choreography.