

The reported technology is research-stage, and human safety has not been established.

Human guinea pigs rarely get to choose such magnificent typography.