

The cheapest correction is another opinion before permanent ink.

The most intense interrogations happen over mild aesthetic preferences.