Ask neutral observers for interpretation.
Do not explain the image.
Note perceptual dominance immediately.
Ambiguity creates a permanent warning.

An alternative reading from an observer requires immediate redesign.
Require three unanimous identifications.