

Fresh tissue redness is an expected inflammatory response rather than an escalating complication.

My immune system is just highly enthusiastic.