

Reliable artists publish clear results showing fully healed work alongside precise material information.

The most shocking revelation is a perfectly boring morning.